Re: Selection Committee for the APhA APPE Program

To whom it may concern:

I am writing this letter on behalf of Harman Kaur. She is presently a full-time student in her second year of the Pacific University Doctor of Pharmacy program. I am a faculty member and administrator in the School of Pharmacy and have worked closely with Harman throughout both of her years in the program. Based on her strong interest in a non-traditional career path, I believe she would be a good fit for the Advanced Pharmacy Practice Experience (APPE) opportunity that you offer.

Harman is currently enrolled in our PharmD/MS in Pharmaceutical Sciences joint degree program and has a passion for linking patient care to evidence-based research. Her career aspirations along with her curiosity toward non-traditional career routes within the pharmacy profession make her a great fit for the APPE elective you offer, which exposes students to what a future life might look like working within a professional organization. Harman works hard and demonstrates an ability to balance the intense workload of our accelerated PharmD program with her busy life as a mother. She has a passion for helping those in need and works hard to elevate the performance of her colleagues, especially those who are struggling. In the classroom, Harman works well in team-oriented settings; an important quality that will help her to be successful as a trainee in your program. Her willingness to always "pitch in" makes collaborative endeavors with Harman rewarding and enjoyable. I've witnessed this firsthand in both the classroom and extracurricular settings.

It is my hope that this letter highlights how well-rounded Harman is as a person and how nicely she'd fit in if offered this opportunity. She has good understanding of what she wants from her future career, possesses a desire to excel, and shines in leadership roles where she serves as a strong advocate for her team. It is very apparent that she is motivated by her curiosity in organizational structure and leadership, which makes her an excellent candidate for your program.

Sincerely,
